

Newspaper Article

Workers - keep older ones

Courier-Mail 23-24 July 2005

Business needs to do more to prevent elderly workers from retiring if Australia hopes to cope with its aging population, a new report has found. The Equal Employment Opportunity Network of Australasia surveyed 32 leading employers and found business needed to wise up and start holding on to a valuable asset.